

July 2022 CL & LoAR

A Quick Summary of Changes

Jeanne Marie Palimpsest

Articles, the Website, and You

- Anyone can write an article for the website. It does NOT have to be in HTML! Write it in whatever editor you are most comfortable with, and contact the relevant sovereign for vetting (Pelican, Wreath, or even Laurel). When your article is accepted, if we feel it would be best as an HTML version, we have folks that can do any necessary conversion and formatting.
- Anyone can suggest an article for the website. See an obvious hole? Email us to point it out! It could be that the hole has been filled but isn't in an obvious spot, which we can correct. Or you could be completely right, and then we'll have a better idea of what priority filling that hole needs.

SENA Formatting Update

- SENNA was reformatted and released August 27th.
 - Added links to each section and subsection. You can right-click the link icon to copy the url that leads directly to that subsection.
 - Fixed some internal links so they lead to the section cited, not to a different place within SENNA.
 - Standardized the internal citations to remove periods. This matches the style commonly used on Lols and in LoARs. For example, GP.3 is now GP3 throughout SENNA and PN.1.B.2.g is now PN1B2g.

SENA GP3

- Corrected an error from the July 2021 update to GP3, removing the first sentence of the second paragraph:

~~The center of the Society is medieval and Renaissance Europe.~~ As in the Governing Documents, period is defined as "pre-17th Century". Elements and patterns of names and heraldry found in the Middle Ages and Renaissance are allowed. While the focus is on the Middle Ages and Renaissance, we register documentable elements and patterns from before the Middle Ages so long as they can adequately be described by standard SCA terms (for armory) and Latin characters (for names). Thus while we will register, for example, classical Greek, Arabic, and Japanese names, they must be transliterated into Latin characters.

NOTE: The update will be reflected at <https://heraldry.sca.org/sena.html#GP3> approximately a week after the October 2022 BoD meeting.

Admin Handbook – Appendix H Update

- Updated to reflect the two different versions of Mills' book:

This is an updated version of A Dictionary of English Place-Names; either version is acceptable.

[Mills English] Mills, A. D. A Dictionary of English Place-Names.

This is an earlier version of A Dictionary of British Place-Names; either version is acceptable.

On the Given Name Kára

- Kára will no longer be registered as a Scandinavian name (including Old Norse) as no evidence supporting its use in period was found despite being listed in Geirr Bassi's "The Old Norse Name".
 - Submissions appearing on August Letters of Intent will be allowed to rely on Geirr Bassi's citation.
 - Kara is registrable as an English or German late 16th and early 17th century name.
 - Cara is also attested in English, German, Spanish, and Italian.

Note: There is a new article Standard Source "Errata" (http://heraldry.sca.org/names/source_errata.html) that compiles precedents ruling names in standard sources as no longer registrable. This should make it easier to find these types of rulings.

From the LoAR: Names

- In registering Order of the Defenders of the Flame at Starkhafn Pelican noted that order names that use double locatives take the pattern of X at Y where X is a localized element such as a manor house or tavern and Y is a larger region such as a city or country. It was also noted that the resulting compound locative of the Flame at Starkhafn removes any unmistakable reference to the registered branch Barony of the Flame. [Starkhafn, Barony of, 07/2022, A-Caid]

From the LoAR: New Charges

- The fisher marten, commonly known today as a fisher, was hunted by people of the First Nations. It conflicts with weasels, martens, and similar beasts. [Ótama drengjamóðir, 07/2022, A-Outlands]

A fisher marten between five sets of three interlaced annulets

From the LoAR: Armory

- Mullets of twelve points are not too complex to void. [Motan the Mongol, 07/2022, A-Gleann Abhann]
- Wreath reaffirmed that you cannot get a DC for the position of a bordure, which is inherent in its definition. [Jórunn Hestsskáld, 07/2022, R-Avacal]
 - What this means: Changing from a bordure to a charge in chief or in base will give you a DC for changing the type of secondary charge but not a second DC for its location.

Webbed Updates

- AH Appendix H has been updated.
- The List of Alternate Titles has been updated.
- SENA GP3 will be updated approximately a week after the October BoD meeting.
