

Place names from Merovingian coins

By Brunissende Dragonette (mka Mathilde Poussin)

Merovingian names were dithemic, which means that the name of a person was formed by combining two name elements, a prototheme (first part) and a deutertheme (second part) into one name. Such a name is considered a name phrase per SENA. To be registerable in the Society, a personal name must contain two name phrases<sup>1</sup>. A simple way to render an authentic Merovingian name registerable is to add a locative name phrase, which signals that a given person (let's say Taudolino) originates from a specific place (why not Neloro) by using the Latin locative preposition "de". So our example would be Taudolino de Neloro.

These place names were collected from: "Liste des noms d'hommes gravés sur les monnaies de l'époque mérovingienne, lettre à M. d'Arbois de Jubainville" by Anatole de Barthélémy<sup>2</sup>

The book, found on google book, collected the names and the place names found on Merovingian coins, as well as the modern place where those coins were found. All information was collected and further processed. However this section only lists the place names as found on the coins.

The names are sorted alphabetically. Spellings that seemed to be spelling variants of the same place name were kept. When the author hesitated between two spellings, both are reported here. Abbreviations are the ones that were present in the google book (for example "sti" for "sancti"). Places with question mark in the book were left with the question mark.
