

THE FOLLOWING ITEMS HAVE BEEN REGISTERED:Æthelmearc

Botolfe of Biddick. Device. Sable, in fess two amphorae and in base a rat couchant Or.

This device was pended on the December 2024 LoAR to redraw the rat as clearly a secondary charge.

Charles Mordacq. Name (see PENDINGS for device).

The submitter requested authenticity for late period French. This name meets that request.

Gunnarr Porfinsson. Convert alternate name to primary name and release of name Gunnarr Bjarnarson Smiðs.

The submitter's previous primary name, Gunnarr Bjarnarson Smiðs, is released.

Katla Hines. Device. Sable, on a mullet of seven points Or an increscent sable, an orle Or.

Kieran MacRae. Household name Company of the Trompete and Penne.

There is sufficient evidence of the pattern Society of X and Y from 15th century Germany, such as the Society of the Falcon and Fish, the honorable Society of the Scenthounds and Wreaths, and the Society of the Unicorn and the Maiden. Combined with the documented pattern of English inn-sign names, which combine two heraldic charges, e.g., the Rose and Crowne, the Beare and ragged Staffe, amongst others, the pattern of two heraldic charges is an acceptable household name pattern for households based on English inn-signs and tournament companies.

Kieran MacRae. Badge. Per chevron purple and argent, a straight trumpet inverted counterchanged Or and sable.

Kumagaya Kentarou Masamoto. Badge. (Fieldless) On a bear's pawprint sable a mitsutomoe Or.

This badge does not conflict with the badge of Antonii Machinevik, (Fieldless) On a paw print sable an ansuz rune Or. There is a DC for fieldlessness and a DC for the type of tertiary charge; though mitsutomoe are categorized in the Ordinary as symbols, they do not conflict with letters or runes. We decline at this time to rule on whether mitsutomoe are considered a single charge or three charges.

There is a step from core practice for using a pawprint.

Mojmir Wandronyk. Name.

The submitter requested authenticity for 13th-16th century Polish. This request was not noted on the Letter of Intent. Kingdoms are reminded that all authenticity requests must be summarized on the Letter of Intent to ensure a name does not need to be pended for further research. Fortunately, Ollivier Ragged Staff was able to identify this request in commentary with enough time for commenters to respond.

The documentation provided supports Mojmir as a normalized header form, but documents Moymir to 1265. Fortunately, SENA Appendix A states that the i/y/j letter swap was common in Polish, making this form registerable. This spelling difference, combined with the 132-year gap between the documented dates of the given name and byname, means that this name is registerable, but probably not authentic.

Philippa Faye of Rockford. Name and device. Per pale argent and vert, a comet and an orle counterchanged.

Rosamund of Newenham and Edmund of Newenham. Joint badge. Quarterly azure and purple, on a lozenge argent a compass star sable.

Blazoned when registered in May 1989 as Per pale sable and Or, two stag's antlers within a bordure counterchanged, we are clarifying the orientation of the stag's antlers. Since they face opposite directions, they are a pair of antlers.

Torvald Torgarson. Reblazon of augmentation. Per pale sable and Or, a pair of stag's antlers within a bordure counterchanged, for augmentation in base a demi-escarbuncle counterchanged.

Blazoned when registered in October 2020 as Per pale sable and Or, two stag's antlers within a bordure counterchanged, for augmentation in base a demi-escarbuncle counterchanged, we are clarifying the orientation of the stag's antlers. Since they face opposite directions, they are a pair of antlers.

Blazoned when registered in September 1973 as Gules, a bend ermine, overall an hourglass proper sanded Or, a bordure engrailed Or, we are clarifying the tincture of the hourglass. It is argent, framed of wood proper. The presence of sand in an hourglass is an unblazonable artistic detail under current standards.

This device was pended on the December 2024 LoAR to redraw the decrescent more centered on the field.

Ginevra Tessaro. Name.

Hrefna Sjón. Name.

Submitted as Hræfna Sjóna, the desired spelling of the given name could not be documented. Additionally, the documentation for the byname did not support the desired spelling. If the submitter is interested in Ræfna, the documentable Old East Norse form of the given name, they may submit a request for reconsideration.

Sundragon, Barony of. Order name Baron's Award of Dreng.

Baron's is the lingua Societatis form of the period possessive noun Barons. Dreng is the Old Norse word for rock or pillar, thus this award name follows the pattern of Order of +[Heraldic Charge]. We are, for this registration, considering Baron's Award as the designator, with the substantive element being Dreng.

Cailin MacQueen. Name and device. Per pale vert and argent, an ox's head cabossed gules, on a chief embattled sable three mullets of seven points Or.

Submitted as Cailean MacQueen, the initial documentation of the given name Cailean was taken from a Victorian source that does not necessarily reflect period spellings. After the close of commentary, Jeanne Marie Palimpsest was able to document the name Cailean Cam Mackenzie to the late 16th century (was "The Maritime Dimension to Scotland's 'Highland Problem', ca. 1540-1630", Aonghas MacCoinnich, Journal of the North Atlantic, 2019, pp. 44-72.). However, this name combines both Gaelic and Anglicized orthography in the same name, which is not a practice seen in period. This suggests that the spelling of at least some of the name elements have been modernized. We have, therefore, with the submitter's permission, changed the given name to the documented Scottish Gaelic name Cailin MacQueen.

Submitters are reminded that Wikipedia is not acceptable as sole documentation for a name element.

As this is the first registration of a blue jay in 25 years, we take this opportunity to redocument the charge. The blue jay is a bird native to eastern North America in areas where humans lived in period, so may be used as a charge per SENA A2B2b.

A blue jay proper is mainly azure, with a white belly and black and white markings on its wings, tail, and head, and is considered azure for the purposes of conflict and contrast, which we direct Palimpsest to note in Table 4 of the Glossary of Terms.

Submitters and consulting heralds are reminded that charges that have not been registered before and charges that have not been registered in a decade or more should be documented as part of the submission.

Submitted as House of __ Siren and Ship__, the submitters indicated that their preference would be to register the household name House of the Siren and Shipwright. As commenters were able to document the element shipwright and the use of a siren as a heraldic charge, and a shipwright as a plausibly identifiable heraldic charge, we have made this change.

Quintin Wessell. Name.

The submitter requested authenticity for England. This request was not noted on the Letter of Intent. Kingdoms are reminded that all authenticity requests must be summarized on the Letter of Intent to ensure a name does not need to be pended for further research. The byname was constructed using Kara as a Norse given name. Precedent [Meadhbh of Calafia, 04/2005, A-Caid] gives an SC between a chess knight and both a chess rook and a chess pawn. East, Kingdom of the. Guild name Fellowship of Foresters of the East.

Eliot Swyft. Name.

Nice late 14th century English name!

Eliot Swyft. Device. Purpure, a pale pean fimbriated Or.

This device does not conflict with the populace badge of the Baronnie de l'Ile du Dragon Dormant, Purpure, on a pale argent a pallet Or. As noted on the Cover Letter, "If the larger charge is less than twice the width of the smaller charge it will be considered equivalent to fimbriation. If it is more than twice the width of the charge, it will be treated only as a charge on another charge." The barony's pale is more than three times the width of the pallet, so does not need to be considered as a fimbriated charge. This means the current submission has a DC for changing the tincture of the pale, and a DC for removing the pallet.

Eliot Swyft. Badge. (Fieldless) An eight-belled joscelyn wreathed argent and purpure, belled Or.

This badge does not conflict with the badge of the Province of Malagentia, (Fieldless) A torse in annulo wreathed argent and purpure. There is one DC for fieldlessness, and a second for the difference between a torse and a joscelyn.

Eliot Swyft. Badge. Purpure ermined Or, a cross swallowtailed argent.

This badge does not presume on the badge of the Order of the Knights of Malta, (Fieldless) A Maltese cross argent, nor their flag, Gules, a Maltese cross argent. There are DCs against each for field changes - adding a field in the first case and changing the field tincture in the second. There is also at least a DC between a cross swallowtailed and a Maltese cross, bringing this clear of both pieces of armory.

Eliot Swyft. Badge. Purpure, a pale sable fimbriated Or, overall a swallow volant to dexter chief argent.

There is a step from core practice for the use of an overall charge surmounting a fimbriated ordinary.

Artist's note: Please draw the swallow so that more of it lies on the field.

Reblazoned in September 2015 as Vert, an elk's attires between three hunting horns Or, we are clarifying that there are two attires. The hunting horns are not strung on a cord. This is an artistic detail that is usually blazoned.

Kirsten von Reehe. Reblazon of device. Per bend Or and azure, a pair of stag's attires gules and a fox's head caboshed argent.

Blazoned when registered in April 1984 as Per bend Or and azure, a stag's attire gules and a fox's head caboshed argent, we are clarifying that there are two stag's attires.

Llewellyn Walsh. Badge for Honorable Company of the Silver Massacre. (Fieldless) A sword Or surmounted by a massacre argent.

Manfred Albrecht von Halsstern. Reblazon of badge. Argent, within a pair of bull's horns conjoined gules a Gorgon's head sable.

Blazoned when registered in December 1990 as Argent, a Gorgon's head cabossed sable, langued and orbéd, within a pair of bull's horns gules, we are clarifying the charges and charge groups. The bull's horns are conjoined and they are the primary charges. The Gorgon's head is a secondary charge. We are also taking this opportunity to update the blazon using current, standard defaults and terminology.

Michael Amadan Fitzgerald. Reblazon of device. Or, two roses vert and in pale a shillelagh fesswise sable, pendant therefrom a palmer's scrip gules.

Blazoned when registered in November 1989 as Or, a shillelagh fesswise sable, pendent therefrom a palmer's scrip gules, in chief two roses vert we are correcting the spelling of pendant and clarifying the charge groups. The charges are all co-primary, with the roses and palmer's scrip arranged two and one and the shillelagh between the three charges. Morsulus is asked to note this in the O&A.

Octavia Jenon de Treves. Reblazon of device. Or, a saltire parted and fretted vert, overall a brown hedgehog statant proper all within a bordure vert.

Blazoned when registered in January 1993 as Or, a saltire parted and fretted vert, overall a hedgehog statant proper all within a bordure vert, we are clarifying the tincture of the hedgehog. It is not proper as it lacks an argent face and belly; it is brown.

Sabine de Amico. Name.

This name combines a French given name with an Italian byname, an acceptable lingual mix per SENA Appendix C.

Santiago Vieyra. Device. Barry wavy argent and azure, a bordure azure semy of escallops Or.

Reblazoned in February 2007 as Azure, a bendlet between a boreas and an ounce counter-rampant gardant Or, incensed gules, we are clarifying the type of wind. This is not a boreas, which is an icy-bearded old man, it is a generic wind or aeolus. We are also taking this opportunity to update the blazon using current, standard terminology.

Tavis MacKinnon. Device. Checky argent and gules, two bears rampant guardant addorsed sable.

Gleann Abhann

Aki no Moronaga. Device. Per bend argent and sable, a roundel sable and a death's head, on the roundel the hanzi character "wú" (naught) argent.

This device was pended on the December 2024 LoAR to redraw the death's head so that the field is not showing through the eye sockets.

Alaric Blackfist. Name and device. Azure, on a pale endorsed argent a gauntlet clenched sable.

Nice cant!

Alisaundre Ludwig. Name and device. Purpure, a bat and on a chief argent a golpe between an increscent and a decrescent purpure.

Submitted as Alexandra Ludwig, the submitter stated that the spelling Alisaundre was most important. The given name Alisaundre can be dated to 1554 England, which can then be borrowed into German, to make this an entirely German name.

If the submitter did not, in fact, desire the spelling Alisaundre, they may submit a request for reconsideration.

Dediana du Corwyn. Reblazon of device. Sable, a pair of stag's attires conjoined between three crescents, a bordure dovetailed argent.

Blazoned when registered in March 1978 as Sable, between three crescents a stag's attire affronty erased, a bordure dovetailed argent, we are clarifying that there are two stag's attires.

Elizabeth Severn. Reblazon of device. Argent, a brown urchin statant proper, on a chief vert three trefoils Or.

Blazoned when registered in June 1987 as Argent, an urchin statant proper, on a chief vert, three trefoils Or, we are clarifying the tincture of the urchin. It is not proper as it lacks an argent face and belly; it is brown.

Evette de la Marre. Name.

Fiore de Neve. Name.

Submitted as Fiore dei Neve, there was no evidence provided to support the construction of the byname, using the Italian word for snow. Fortunately, commenters were able to document the French byname de Neve to 1637. While this does not have the same meaning as dei Neve, it is the smallest possible change that we can make to register this name while keeping the sound similar. We have therefore changed this name to Fiore de_ Neve for registration. This name combines an Italian given name with a French byname, an acceptable lingual mix per SENA Appendix C.

If the submitter is interested in the wholly Italian name Fiore del Neve, they may make a request for reconsideration.

Florius Sesenco. Name.

Hadrian Lions Bane. Name and device. Vert, a unicorn and on a bordure argent three french cut gemstones in profile vert.

There is a step from core practice for gemstones depicted in profile. We direct Palimpsest to add this to SENA Appendix G1.

Hrafnhildr Jóhansdóttir. Device. Argent, a raven displayed sable, on a chief azure a comet fesswise Or.

Jane Harcourt of Wallyngford. Reblazon of device. Per chevron argent and vert, a brown urchin statant proper within a bordure counterchanged.

Lochac, Kingdom of. Order name Order of the Lens (see PENDS for badge).

Lochac, Kingdom of. Order name Company of the Mouse Guard and badge association. Gules, a mouse sejant erect to sinister tail nowed argent within an orle Or.

Submitted as Mouse Guard of Lochac, this order name used a ship's name pattern to form the substantive element. However, ship's companies are households, not "orders" as we understand them in the Society. Therefore, the pattern relied upon is not appropriate for an order name.

Fortunately, precedent allows a pattern of order names "using casual language to describe heraldic charges" [East, Kingdom of. 12/2022, A-East].

There are several examples in medieval heraldry of animals in human clothing, including a fox in a tunic seen in 1560-1615 Stammbuch of Jakob Streit (BSB 313, f22r), lions in hats, and dogs in hoods seen in 1548 Wappenbuch der Arlberg-Bruderschaft by Virgil Raber, a rabbit in Landesknecht hosen seen in 1562 Flandria - Chorographie Flanderns in Portraits der Landesfürsten, den Wappen des Adels und des Landes und in seiner Geographie (BSB 265), a dog in a hat and scarf Armorial of Ulrich R{"o}sch, Abbot of S. Gall, amongst several other examples. Thus, a mouse in a guard's uniform could be colloquially referred to as a "mouse guard", thus, we have changed this to Company of the Mouse Guard for registration, to follow the pattern of order names using casual language to describe heraldic charges.

Concerns were raised at the decision meeting about presumption upon the Mouse Guard comic book series. While the comic book series is known, it is not widely known/instantly recognizable, and thus, unlikely to be confused with the Order. Thus, we are able to register this order name.

Lokki lásabryótr. Name and device. Per fess purpure and sable, three keys in pall inverted wards to center Or, in chief an estoile argent.

Submitted as Lokki lássbryótr, the byname was not correctly formed. In all the documented examples given of bynames that ended with -bryótr (meaning "breaker"), used the noun being broken takes the genitive plural form, rather than the genitive singular form. One breaks multiple objects in Old Norse, not a single object. Thus, we have changed this name to Lokki lásabryótr for registration, to follow the documented pattern.

Rúnfríðr Keiliselgr. Household name Haus zum Höffles.

Septimus Septimius Finitus. Name and device. Sable, seven bees four, two and one Or, a chief counter-compony sable and Or.

Sverker the Berserker. Name change from William Montrose.

The submitter's prior name, William Montrose, is released.

Meridies

Arbella Blyth. Badge. (Fieldless) A troll's head vert.

This badge does not conflict with the device of John of Woodwose Hall, Argent, a man's head couped affronty, crowned with leaves and antlers, all vert. There is a DC for fieldlessness. The horns on the troll's head are not considered significant under the guidelines set out on the July 2024 acceptance of the badge of Ilaria Rosati; that is, they could be mistaken for details that are not worth difference, such as crowns or stray locks of hair. The attires on John's device are considered significant, so removing them gives the head in this submission the needed second DC.

Cassia bint Mansur. Name.

Ernán Ó Conaíll. Reblazon of device. Azure, a fret argent and on a chief Or a pair of stag's attires conjoined sable.

Blazoned when registered in June 1999 as Azure, a fret argent and on a chief Or a stag's attires sable, we are clarifying that there are two stag's attires.

Geloira de Sancto Johanne. Device change. Per saltire argent and Or, a domestic cat sejant guardant maintaining over its raised foreleg sable a glove gules.

The submitter's prior device, Or, a cross of Calatrava gules and on a chief azure, three lyres Or, is retained as a badge.

Geoffrey de Bradelei. Reblazon of badge. (Fieldless) Within and conjoined to a pair of stag's attires conjoined a cross formy argent.

Blazoned when registered in July 1990 as (Fieldless) A cross formy within a stag's attires argent, we are clarifying that there are two stag's attires.

Kieran Ciotach MacLeod. Device. Ermine, a cross formy fitched at the foot between in chief two mitsutomoe gules.

The emblazon has the fitching the same width as the base of the lower arm. Based on period and grey period examples of other crosses fitched at the foot, this is a rare, but reasonable, way of depicting this motif.

Lykaina of Stone Hill Keep. Device change. Argent, a wolf rampant vert and in chief a glass blowing pipe fesswise reversed sable glassed gules.

This is the defining instance of a glass blowing pipe in Society armory. The submitter provided evidence of this tool's use in period. The bulb of glass at the end of the pipe will be considered a defining feature of the charge. For conflict and contrast purposes, a glass blowing pipe will take its tincture from the pipe. The default orientation of the glass blowing pipe is "palewise, glass to chief", which we direct Palimpsest to add to Table 5 of the Glossary of Terms.

The submitter's prior device, Argent, on a pale between two arrows gules, an arrow inverted argent, a bordure gules, is retained as a badge.

Mara Lile O'Morain. Name and device. Or, a sea-dragon purpure and on a base wavy vert three mullets Or.

Rhiannon of the Isle. Reblazon of badge. Vert, a dragon passant Or, gorged of a county coronet gules, maintaining an hourglass argent framed Or, in chief three mullets in chevron argent.

Blazoned when registered in April 1998 as Vert, a dragon passant Or, gorged of a county coronet gules, maintaining an hourglass proper, in chief three mullets in chevron argent, we are clarifying the tincture of the hourglass. It is argent framed Or.

South Downs, Barony of. Order name Order of the Dove of South Downs and badge. Per pale sable and azure, a dove rising and a bordure embattled argent.

South Downs, Barony of. Order name Order of Faiths Falcon.

Submitted as Order of the Falcon's Faith, this order name was not properly constructed. The pattern of [Heraldic Charge] + [Virtue] is not a documented order name pattern, and prior registration of similar items does not imply registrability of new items, unless the Existing Registration Allowance is being used. That allowance is not applicable here. We have, therefore, with the submitter's permission, changed this order name to Order of Faiths Falcon to follow the order name pattern Order of [Personal Name in Possessive Form] + [Heraldic Charge].

Submitters are also reminded that per the Administrative Handbook IV.C2 Documentation, that all submissions must include "Documenting evidence... for all name elements, constructions, and patterns", and that per AH IV.A, the submitter bears the primary responsibility for ensuring the documentation is complete, including consulting with other heralds prior to submission, if needed.

South Downs, Barony of. Order name Order of the Kestrel's Talon.

This order name follows the pattern of Order of + [heraldic charge], and the use of the possessive apostrophe is a lingua Societatis form [Summits, Principality of the, 03/2024, A-An Tir].

Commenters questioned whether a kestrel's talon is distinguishable from an eagle's talon. It is not. However, we might allow an eagle's talon to be registered as a kestrel's talon for purposes of a cant; therefore, it is a legitimate name of a charge and this order name is registerable.

South Downs, Barony of. Order name Order of Phoenixs Sparks.

Submitted as Order of the Phoenix's Spark, this order name was not correctly formed. Heraldic sparks are never found as single charges, but always as multiple charges. Additionally, this order name follows the pattern Order of [Personal Name in Possessive Form] + [Heraldic Charge], which means that the definitive article used prior to the substantive element is not needed. Therefore, we have changed this order name to Order of _ Phoenixs Sparks for registration.

South Downs, Barony of. Order name Order of the Sparrow's Wing.

This order name follows the pattern of Order of + [heraldic charge], and the use of the possessive apostrophe is a lingua Societatis form [Summits, Principality of the, 03/2024, A-An Tir].

South Downs, Barony of. Order name Order of Graces Swan.

Submitted as Order of the Swan's Grace, this order name does not follow documentable order name patterns. The pattern of [Heraldic Charge] + [Virtue] is not a documented order name pattern, and prior registration of similar items does not imply registrability of new items, unless the Existing Registration Allowance is being used.

Using the pattern Order of [Personal Name in Possessive Form] + [Heraldic Charge], we have therefore changed this order name to Order of Graces Swan for registration.

South Downs, Barony of. Order name Award of the Swift's Heart and badge. (Fieldless) A swift volant maintaining in its beak a chain argent pendant therefrom a heart gules.

Here swift's heart is being used as a heraldic charge, following the pattern of a body part of an animate creature with an appropriate possessive modifier. Swift's is the lingua Societatis version of the period possessive noun Swifts.

Alda Mauricia. Reblazon of device. Purpure, a crook of Basel reversed argent.

Like other crooks, a crook of Basel defaults to palewise with the hook opening to dexter. The opening here is to sinister, which means it is reversed. Palimpsest is directed to add this to Table 5 of the Glossary of Terms.

Berengaria Mordaunt. Reblazon of badge. (Fieldless) In fess an ermine spot between and conjoined in base to a pair of stag's attires conjoined argent.

Blazoned when registered in February 1997 as (Fieldless) An ermine spot Or within and conjoined at the base to a stag's attires argent, we are clarifying the charges and charge group. There are two stag's attires and they are co-primary with the ermine spot.

Sidonie Cydeau of Brittany. Name and device. Per chevron throughout argent and sable, in chief two suns in their splendor purpure.

Fortunately, Ollivier Ragged Staff was able to identify this request in commentary with enough time for commenters to respond.

Amanda is the submitter's given legal name, used here under the Legal Name Allowance. We were unable to document the given name to 14th century Germany; thus this name, while registerable, is not authentic for that time period.

The bag is the primary charge, the harp is a secondary charge. Pouches default to palewise, opening to chief, thus when they are fesswise the opening defaults to dexter. This bag's opening is to sinister, making it reversed. The harp is not reversed; if it were palewise its soundboard would be to sinister, which is the default orientation for a harp.

Sakabe Nobuari. Augmentation of arms. Argent, in fess two caltrops sable, for augmentation each caltrop encircled by a serpent in annulo vorant of its own tail vert.

This augmentation was pended on the December 2024 LoAR to redraw the serpents with a clearer bulge where the head is, and a more pronounced taper towards the tail.

Trimaris

Aonghas of Rannachmoor. Reblazon of device. Per pale gules and sable, a pair of deer's attires conjoined and a chief embattled argent.

Blazoned when registered in February 2006 as Per pale gules and sable, a deer's attires and a chief embattled argent, we are clarifying that there are two deer's attires.

Breuse Hartswood. Reblazon of device. Vert ermined, a two-headed phoenix, in chief a pair of stag's attires conjoined Or.

Blazoned when registered in October 1990 as Vert, ermined Or, a two-headed phoenix, in chief a massacre, all Or, we are clarifying the type of secondary charges. Since there is no scalp present, it is a pair of stag's attires conjoined rather than a massacre. We are also taking this opportunity to update the blazon using current, standard terminology.

John Shorthair. Reblazon of device. Per fess azure and sable, in saltire an axe and a sword inverted within a pair of stag's attires conjoined argent.

Blazoned when registered in September 1980 as Per fess azure and sable, in saltire an axe and a sword inverted within a stag's attire, all argent, we are clarifying that there are two stag's attires.

West

Æoelwig Æoelfwigson. Reblazon of device. Or, a griffin Or fimbriated and in base a chevronel vert.

Blazoned when registered in February 1975 as Or, a griffin voided and in base a chevronel vert, we are clarifying that the griffin is Or, not vert.

Angharad of the Coppery Shields. Reblazon of device. Vert, three closed books palewise Or.

Blazoned when registered in October of 1987 as Vert, three closed books palewise, spines to sinister Or, we are correcting the orientation of the books; an examination of the emblazon on file shows that the spines are to dexter.

Dafydd o Gaerdydd. Reblazon of device. Azure, a chevron between three mullets of four points and on a chief embattled argent three pairs of stag's attires conjoined sable.

Blazoned when registered in September 1987 as Azure, a chevron between three mullets of four points and on a chief embattled argent three stag's attires sable, we are clarifying that the tertiary charges are three sets of pairs of stag's attires.

Elrik Skap-Vargr. Reblazon of badge. (Fieldless) A brown hedgehog statant contourny proper.

Blazoned when registered in May 1992 as (Fieldless) A hedgehog statant contourney proper, we are clarifying the tincture of the hedgehog. It is not proper as it lacks an argent face and belly; it is brown. We are also correcting the spelling of contourney.

Guinevere Whitehorn. Reblazon of device. Per bend azure and sable, a pair of stag's attires argent.

Blazoned when registered in May 1998 as Per bend azure and sable, a stag's attires argent, we are clarifying that there are two stag's attires.

THE FOLLOWING ITEMS HAVE BEEN RETURNED FOR FURTHER WORK:Æthelmearc

Aine of the Dal-Cais. Device. Azure, on a lozenge Or a triskelion of spirals within and conjoined to an annulet azure.

This device is returned administratively for the emblazon in OSCAR not matching the emblazon on the form. This device was pended on the December 2024 LoAR to correct this issue, but as the submitter has not approved the provided redraw this must be returned.

There is a step from core practice for the use of a triskelion of spirals.

Bayne de Angelis. Device. Per pale sable and vert, in saltire two scimitars inverted Or surmounted by a skull argent, in chief two mullets of four points Or.

This device is returned for unidentifiable charges. The scimitars have rapier hilts, and are obscured by the skull; these two factors make them unrecognizable as scimitars, and barely recognizable as swords. This device was pended on the December 2024 LoAR for redraw to correct these issues. As the submitter has not approved the provided redraw this must be returned.

Artemisia

Ailith Ruadh. Name.

This name was withdrawn by the submitter.

Bronzehelm, Barony of. Badge for Order of the Lavender of Bronzehelm. Or, five sprigs of lavender proper banded azure.

This badge is returned for conflict with the badge of Nathaniel Jonessone, Or, a garb azure. There is a DC for the tincture of the primary charge, but there is too much visual similarity between a garb and a bundle of lavender sprigs for a second DC.

This badge does not conflict with the badge of William Brewer, (Fieldless) A garb vert. There is a DC for adding the field. A second DC would need to come from the tincture of the primary charge. We have been inconsistent in how we treat the tincture of lavender proper, classifying very similar depictions as purpure, vert, or multicolor. After a review of registered emblazons, we are ruling that the flowers on a sprig of lavender are considered half the charge, so lavender proper is considered half purpure and half vert, giving this submission a second DC versus William's badge. We direct Palimpsest to update Table 4 of the Glossary of Terms with this information.

This badge also does not conflict with the badge of Kathryn Lavendar of Lesbos, Or, a lavender plant in bloom stalked and leaved proper surmounted by a sword sable. There is a DC between Kathryn's lavender plant and the bundle of lavender in the submission, and a second DC for removing the overall sword.

Atenveldt

Vallis Aeris, Shire of. Device. Per fess indented sable and gules, a demi-sun issuant from the line of division and within a laurel wreath Or two pickaxes in saltire argent.

This device is returned for having three types of charge in the same charge group, in violation of SENA A3D2a, Slot Machine. Precedent says: "When part of a primary charge group, a wreath and what it surrounds are co-primary charges, which means that we have a single group of three different types of charge: chevronel, head and wreath. This slot-machine heraldry is disallowed, per SENA A3D2a." [Wyldewode, Canton of, 01/2017, R-Ansteorra] Similarly, in this submission the sun, pickaxes, and wreath are all in the same charge group.

Atlantia

Kanamori no Tatsume. Device. Or, an umebachi within an annulet sable.

This device is returned for conflict with the badge of Aliskye Rosel, (Fieldless) A rose sable, barbed and seeded proper, within an annulet sable. An umebachi is a stylized flowering plum blossom found in Japanese kamon. Though often depicted as disjoint roundels, some depictions have the outer roundels joined with the center one, making the charge closely resemble depictions the European cinquefoil, so we are ruling that they should be treated for conflict in the same way as other five-petaled flowers affronty, and will therefore conflict with a rose. Considered in this way, this submission only has a single DC from Aliskye's badge for adding a field.

An umebachi has previously only been registered using an individually attested pattern. The expansion of the scope of the Society means an individually attested pattern is no longer required to register this charge.

Laurel

Society for Creative Anachronism. Badge. (Tinctureless) A weathervane.

This badge is returned for multiple conflicts. The weathervane depicted in this submission is visually nearly identical to a quadrant. Due to this similarity, this conflicts with the Barony of Smoking Rocks' badge for the Order of the Quadrant, (Fieldless) A quadrant argent, Gosfrei Kempe's badge Or; a quadrant gules, and Christoforo Antonio Passavanti's device, Sable, a quadrant Or. In each case there is a single DC for changes to the field.

This badge is also not suitable to be a reserved charge due to its visual similarity to a quadrant - a charge that appears in multiple pieces of registered armory.

We decline to rule at this time whether this depiction of a weathervane, or weathervanes in general, are acceptable charges.

Northshield

Beatrice Domenici della Campana. Badge. Per fess argent and Or, two roses counterchanged and a chief chequy Or and argent.

This badge is returned per SENA A3B2, which requires that charges have good contrast with their fields.

The submitter attempted to complete an individually attested pattern for Italian heraldry. For practices outside of core heraldry, SENA A4 requires that the overall design of the submission must be similar to the types of designs that document the use of the non-core style elements, and that three examples that closely match the pattern be provided, or six examples that bracket the practice. In this submission, the pattern that needed to be documented was two low contrast inanimate charges on either side of a simple line of division, with a low contrast multiply-divided peripheral ordinary with a mix of low and no contrast with the part of the field it lies on.

The submitter argued that the pattern in Italian armory of chiefs of allegiance should mean that anything that could be documented as complete armory should be allowed to be added as a chief to armory documented to be in an Italian style. We have repeatedly refused to treat chiefs as independent displays of armory, because otherwise we would have to check every charged or divided chief for conflict. If we accepted the submitter's argument, we would have to treat chiefs this way, which is a door we are not willing to open. We also note that if we allowed the submitter's reasoning, the chief chequy Or and argent would conflict with An Tir's standard augmentation, Chequy Or and argent, a dexter tierce sable.

If we do not consider the chief as independent armory, then the overall pattern of this armory is not supported by the evidence provided.

We also note that no examples were provided of "two low contrast inanimate charges on either side of a simple line of division". Though armory consisting of just these elements was registered to the submitter under an individually attested pattern previously, every element must be documented for each individually attested pattern.

Bren Keely. Device. Argent, a dragonfly azure between five mullets, one, two and two, sable, a bordure azure.

This device was pended on the December 2024 LoAR to redraw all of the charges. This submission has been withdrawn by the submitter.

THE FOLLOWING ITEMS HAVE BEEN PENDED UNTIL THE August 2025 LAUREL MEETING (OR AS NOTED):

Æthelmarc

Amalie Reinhardt. Acceptance of transfer of badge from Wahriia of Saint Christina the Astonishing. (Fieldless) A platypus azure.

This acceptance of transfer is pended until the April LoAR to allow the letter of transfer to be processed. This was item 1 on the Æthelmarc letter of December 21, 2024.

Charles Mordacq. Device. Gules, a daisy slipped and leaved issuant from base proper, flaunches argent.

This badge is pended to redraw the flaunches so they issue from the corners of the field. This was item 2 on the Æthelmarc letter of December 21, 2024.

Gleann Abhann

Auriana Maria Ravenstein. Badge. Per fess with a left step gules and sable, in canton a seeblat argent.

This badge is pended to redraw it with a less steep step. A left or right step on a per fess division should be no more than one third the height of the field. The one in this submission is over half the height. This was item 3 on the Gleann Abhann letter of December 31, 2024.

Laurel

Society for Creative Anachronism. Order name Order of Resolve.

This item is pended until the forthcoming special letter. This was item 1 on the Laurel letter of December 10, 2024.

Society for Creative Anachronism. Regalia. Two white vambraces or bracers.

This regalia is pended until the forthcoming special letter. This was item 3 on the Laurel letter of December 10, 2024.

Lochac

Lochac, Kingdom of. Badge for Order of the Lens. (Fieldless) A burning glass sable mounted argent.

This badge is pended for redraw to include a bail on the mounting, making it look more clearly a piece of jewelry and less like a charged roundel.

If the redraw is accepted, this will be the defining instance of a burning glass in Society armory. Crystal or glass lenses used for igniting fires are found throughout period. Most of these are indistinguishable from a roundel or cartouche, so have no standard depiction and are not suitable for a heraldic charge. Some burning glasses, however, are mounted in metal, with a bail at the top for attaching them to a cord or chain, giving them a distinct appearance as a piece of jewelry; this is the type that is considered registerable under SENA A2B2a.

This was item 7 on the Lochac letter of December 31, 2024.
